MANY PROBLEMS
AWAIT HARDING
ON HIS RETURN

President Boards Special Train For Home Saturday.
HAS "GREAT TIME"
Party Due to Arrive in Washington Sunday Afternoon.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 18.—Eager for a final round over his favorite golf course, here, before ending his Florida vacation and returning to his official duties in Washington, President Harding arose early today, planning a full 18 hole game before boarding his special train this afternoon.

Refreshed rather than otherwise by thirty-six holes played yesterday, the president was in excellent spirits as he glanced over the morning papers before leaving for the golf course.

"I've had a great time," he said. Mr. Harding has given little attention to official business during his stay in Florida. Beyond disposing of a number of pardon cases on the train en route here, the president has given but a cursory examination to other work, and has been in communication with only one cabinet officer aside from those who are members of the vacation party. Secretary of the Navy Denby called the president on the long distance telephone concerning the appropriations now before the house for fuel and regarding other cuts proposed for the navy and was informed the president would see him on his return to Washington.

It is likely the president will be plunged into a mass of official business when he goes to his office Monday morning. Besides the threatened cuts in army and navy personnel, reorganization plans of the government departments, the bonus muddle and other live subjects which administration leaders are anxious to talk to him about. He will come back prepared to give ear to all the troubles of the administration leaders, it was indicated today.

The presidential party and its pilot train are here ready to leave for Washington at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It is expected to reach Washington at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

PRINCE OF WALES' VISIT TO INDIA HAS LITTLE EFFECT

Political Unrest in Land Has Not Been Altered By Presence.

London, March 18.—The prince of Wales' visit to India has not had any conciliatory effect upon political unrest in that country, said an Indian dispatch to the Star today. The price is now enroute from India to Japan. Commenting upon the effects of the British royal heir's mission to India, the Star's dispatch says the total results were as follows:

Bombay—Serious rioting in which there were 400 casualties, including many killed. Property damage was heavy.

Calcutta—Seven hundred and fifty arrests. A civilian guard formed to assist the soldiers in patrolling the streets. Armored cars are being used by patrols.

Madras—Serious property damage. Rioters desecrated the British flag. Soldiers charged mobs with fixed bayonets.

Agra—Much opposition to the Prince's visit. Serious rioting occurred with many casualties.

The Star says that the total result of the prince's visit has been to disclose the grave conditions that exist in India. Indian opinion, it was declared, intimates that the demonstrations in favor of the prince were arranged in advance.

This was the date set for the opening of the session of the Indian National Congress at Kara Chi. A dispatch from there said the city was quiet. When arranged for preliminary hearing Gandhi expressed his willingness to plead guilty.

BONUS BILL ACTION
DEFERRED BY HOUSE
UNTIL LATE SUNDAY

Republican Leaders Determine to Await Return of Harding Before Reaching Decision On When To Bring Measure Before Body.

Washington, March 18.—Plans for action on the soldier bonus bill were deferred today by Republican leaders of the house until President Harding returns tomorrow, from Florida.

Speaker Gillett assumed charge of house affairs today but reached no decision following conferences with his intimate friends over the bonus tangle. A conference with the president at the White House has been arranged for Sunday night when leaders hope that a decision will be reached.

Gillett returned yesterday to Washington with the announcement that he was "open to argument" as to permitting the bonus bill to be called up in the house next Monday, under a suspension of the rules.

Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and Rep. Mondell, the Republican leaders want to take up the bill there on Monday under suspension of rules or on Tuesday under a special rule which will prohibit amendments.

The speaker, however, has control of legislation whenever the rules are suspended and unless he falls in line with Mondell and Fordney, the bill cannot be taken up on Monday. While the speaker's powers are not so great as to be arbitrary, his approval of the ways and means committee's program is desirable to assist in setting aside the regular order of business.

After Republican leaders confer today they plan to put the bonus tangle up to President Harding as soon as he returns from Florida with the hope of getting his approval of the present bill.

Late developments yesterday regarding the bonus measure included: Unexpected visit to the Capitol by Rep. Kitchin of North Carolina, the Democratic house leader, who urged his party members on the ways and means committee to submit a minority report opposing certain features of the bonus measure.

MAN OF MILLIONS
LABORS ON COAL
PILE IN PRISON

John Duval Dodge Earns Bread By Sweat of His Brow Saturday.

Detroit, Mich., March 18.—John Duval Dodge, man of millions, earned bread by the sweat of his brow today and that brow was streaked with coal dust as the youthful millionaire wiped away the evidence of toil on the house of correction coal pile.

Judge Bartlett sentenced Dodge to five days in the house of correction, imposed a fine of $100 and revoked the millionaire's driving license for one year after the much arrested young man had pleaded guilty to speeding.

Dodge was given a shovel just after his breakfast of bread, syrup and coffee, and assigned to fill up the coal wagons at the pile, while he awaited the call to the infirmary for vaccination. The vaccination process was interrupted yesterday by the appearance of the writ of habeas corpus which failed.

Besides the five-day sentence, Dodge also faces charges, one of illegally parking his car here, and two at Kalamazoo out of the sensational leap from his car by a western Normal girl student. Two damage suits against the young millionaire are also pending.

POLITICAL UNREST
SETTLES IN MAINE

It is the first congressional election of the Harding administration and unusual interest is attached to it because of the coming fall congressional campaign. The Republican candidate is John E. Nelson and the Democratic is Ernest McLean, both Augusta lawyers.

Famous Stage Beauty On Return From Trip Abroad Says She Will Recommend That Immigration Be Stopped For Five Years.

New York, March 18.—Declaring that the American people were being hoodwinked by untrue stories of conditions in Europe, Lillian Russell, famous stage beauty who was sent abroad as a special commissioner of immigration, said today that she would recommend in her report to Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, that all immigration to this country be stopped for a period of five years.

Miss Russell, who in private life is the wife of Alexander P. Moore, the Pittsburgh publisher, returned last night on the Aquitania and when she spoke of the immigration her eyes flashed.

"I have a detailed report that will amaze a Secretary of Labor," she said today. "Our representatives at Washington have no conception of the immigration situation her eyes flashed."

"America is over 'propaganda' with stories over suffering humanity in Europe and oppression all have the dollar sign back of them."

ALL ANTHRACITE
MINES TO STOP
LEWIS BELIEVES

Suspension Will Start On April 1, Is Opinion of Leader.

OPERATORS BLAMED

Workers Charge Responsibility for Walkout Rests On Employers.

New York, March 18.—All anthracite coal mines will close on April 1 and 155,000 mine workers will put in to effect their promise made at the Shamokin convention of a suspension until they have a new agreement with the operators. This is the view of John L. Lewis, chief of the miners and of S. D. Warriner, spokesman of the operators.

Mine workers charge that responsibility rests entirely on the heads of the coal companies. President Lewis said today, that the sub-committee named to discuss anthracite problems with the operators was ready at yesterday's session to start conferences at once. Delay came not to the surprise of the miners but to the disappointment of the operators when the operators moved for adjournment until next Tuesday. "Delaying tactics" is what the miners say of the operators program and such a program they claim makes a suspension inevitable.

President Lewis made this statement today: "We are anxious to work out a new agreement. Unless there is such an agreement by April 1, it is absolutely impossible to avoid a suspension. I am convinced that there is no way to avert it. Tell the people of the anthracite regions to prepare for a suspension. I will not guess on its duration, but the mines will be in idleness until we have reached an agreement. There is every indication now that discussions will tie long drawn out."

Miners are expecting that when the work of the sub-committee gets under way Tuesday, operators will gradually lead to the point where they will ask for a decrease of about fifteen per cent in wages. A mass of figures that Jett Lauck, statistician has been gathering for many weeks, will be used to offset any such demand. Lauck will be here Monday and while he will not personally appear at the conference he will be right hand man of the union forces.

Upon receiving the reply of the operators, President Lewis said: "The decision of the operators, that they are willing to approach the questions of the anthracite industry contain the hope that it may be possible to reach an agreement. The naming of sub-committees provides an instrument that will permit consideration being given all the issues. This is in marked contrast to the bituminous operators, who, despite their agreement consistently refuse to meet the men."

"The United Mine Workers of America enter these conferences with the sincere determination to do every thing possible to avert conflict in the hard coal fields."

WANT TO KNOW WHO GOT THE WHISKEY

Cincinnati, March 18.—"Who got the whiskey?" this was the all absorbing question with Cincinnati internal revenue and prohibition agents today. The whiskey in question was seized in the neighborhood of Dayton and Middletown two years ago and stored for safe keeping in the vault of the internal revenue office at Middletown.

It consisted of 450 half pint bottles and 17 quarts of the "coon hollow" brand from various violators of the dry law. On orders from Director Russell to remove the liquor to Columbus, agents went to the Middletown revenue office to transfer it.

To their great surprise they found that about one half of the lot of 450 had been tampered with, the alcoholic contents removed and the bottles filled with plain hydrant water. In a number of the bottles tobacco juice had been added to the water, supposedly for the sake of imparting the whiskey hue.

HEALTH COMMISSIONERS OF SOUTH-WEST PART OF OHIO AT O. S. & S. O. HOME

Health Commissioners of the counties and cities of the southwestern part of the state were entertained at luncheon Friday noon at the O. S. & S. O. Home.

After the luncheon a meeting was held in the library of the Home at which Dr. W. A. Galloway gave a brief description of the terrible epidemic of diphtheria which occurred at the Home about thirty years ago and which caused untold suffering and thirty-four deaths. This talk emphasized the necessity of doing everything in the power of science to prevent the recurrence of such a calamity.

Dr. F. G. Boudreau of the State Department of Health explained the working of the most modern method of combating this disease, known as the Schick test and the administration of a preparation known as toxin-antitoxin. Since only about one half of the population are liable to take diphtheria when exposed to it, the Schick test which consists of injecting into the skin a minute portion of the poison which causes death in diphtheria, is used to determine who are susceptible. If they are susceptible a bright red spot appears two or three days afterward at the point of insertion. Then hypodermic injections of the preparation toxin-antitoxin after the manner of typhoid immunization probably render the person immune to diphtheria for life. As the Schick reaction assumes many different forms, Dr. Boudreau was able to exhibit these various types selected from the pupils of the Home to whom the test was applied last Tuesday.

The Health Commissioners and others present expressed themselves greatly pleased at the demonstration and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We, the assembled Health Commissioners of Southwestern Ohio, reared with great interest the use of the Schick test and the subsequent administration of toxin-antitoxin as a preventive of the dreaded disease diphtheria and

Whereas, Through the courtesy of Dr. Boudreau and the management of the O. S. & S. O. Home we have been able to witness the administration of this measure on a large scale, therefore,

Be it Resolved, That we highly commend the management of the Home for so promptly availing themselves of this promised protection against a disease which has caused such frightful havoc in this and similar institutions for children in the past and that we thank the officers of the institution for their generous hospitality and Dr. Boudreau for his painstaking demonstration.

Health Commissioners and others attending the meeting were: Drs. F. G. Boudreau, Ralph B. Tate and E. J. Schwartz of the State Department of Health; Drs. A. O. Peters, Leo Schram, C. W. Osburn, G. D. Gohn, M. B. Floyd, A. F. Shepherd, H. H. Pansing and Mr. E. V. Stoecklein.

RULING ON FRATERNAL TAXATION RECEIVED BY COUNTY AUDITOR

The announcement previously made that fraternal organizations are subject to tax on both real and personal property, even though they may be in part charitable or benevolent organizations, is verified in an opinion from Attorney General Price, a copy of which has been received by County Auditor R. O. Wead.

The ruling is in answer to an inquiry made by the Tax Commission of Ohio to the Attorney General following the decision of the supreme court in the case of the treasurer and auditor of Licking County, against an order of Eagles located there, in which the court ruled that benevolent organizations not operated entirely for charitable purposes are not exempt from taxation.

Heretofore only the real estate property of such organizations, was taxed according to County Auditor Wead whereas in the future all property, both real and personal, will be taxable. The Attorney General's ruling says that real estate belonging to institutions of purely public charity is exempt only when used exclusively for charitable purposes, and if rented for commercial or residential purposes is not exempt, even if the income thus derived is used for charity.

No institution not of charitable nature is exempt from taxation, except those specifically designated by the constitution and the laws such as churches, schools and cemeteries, according to the new ruling received here.

TAXING DISTRICTS GET OVER $21,000 FROM AUTO FEES

A total of $21,100.88 was distributed to the various taxing districts of Greene County, and the county road fund, from the county's share of funds paid in by automobile owners for licenses in 1921 according to a report made Friday by County Auditor R. O. Wead.

The report of the Auditor shows that there were 3687 automobiles in Greene County during the year 1921 of this number 3256 being passenger or pleasure cars, while 431 were trucks. "I could not tell when Prihoda or when your phonograph was playing" says John C. Freund

Do you want to hear the phonograph which earned this remarkable tribute from the dean of American music?

Come into our store. Ask to hear the Official Laboratory Model. John C. Freund has devoted his life to the betterment of American music. He is Editor of Musical America and President of the Musical Alliance of America.

On October 16th, Mr. Freund attended Prihoda's New York recital. After the recital, the comparison test shown above was made. Mr. Freund (seated right) was one of the listeners. His colleagues were Victor S. Flechter, violin expert, and Arnold Volpe, well known violinist conductor. This letter to Mr. Edison is the result. Read it. Let the full import of Mr. Freund's words sink in. This miracle—which people refuse to believe until their ears convince them—is now attested by John C. Freund:—There is no difference between living music and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

And this means: The New Edison brings the greatest vocal and instrumental performances,—because, no other phonograph sustains the test of direct comparison with living artists.

Comparison proves it. Compare!

WHY not have, in your home, a phonograph as perfect as that used in the Prihoda test? We have its exact counterpart. We guarantee it to be capable of the same perfect realism.

Despite the fact that this phonograph cost Mr. Edison three million dollars to develop, you can put it in your home for $. . . (fill in your own first payment.)

Yes, just take a spare bill or two, come in, and make your initial deposit. All we ask is that the amount be sufficient to indicate good faith. The balance you may budget any way you wish.

Why not come in this week?

A Comparison you must be sure to make

Listen to the best of the talking-machine violinists on any ordinary phonograph or talking-machine. Then listen to Prihoda on the New Edison. You'll find—Prihoda sounds far greater. Why? Not that Prihoda so far outshines every violinist appearing in concert today. Simply that the New Edison is the only phonograph whose reproductions of music are perfect enough to sustain the test of direct comparison.

ASTOR TRUST BUILDING

November 21, 1921.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison,
Orange, N.J.

Dear Mr. Edison:

I came away from the Prihoda recital with that feeling that I had been taken out of the soil and toll of life into the spiritual—which only the works of the masters rendered by a genius can produce.

When the recital was over, I was present at a comparison test in which Prihoda's actual playing was compared with its RE-CREATION by the Edison Phonograph. I was astounded to find that I could not tell when Prihoda was playing or when your phonograph was playing.

As one who has watched the gradual evolution of the reproduction of music, vocal and instrumental, let me compliment you on the progress you have made, and add the hope that you may be inspired to still greater accomplishment in a work which means so much for the happiness of mankind.

Very truly yours,

John C. Freund

FIGHTING AGAIN BREAKS OUT ALONG ULSTER FRONTIER

London, March 18.—Fighting has again broken out along the Ulster frontier. Fermanagh and Monaghan counties have been isolated from each other by the destruction of the principal bridges, the cutting of telegraph wires and the blowing up of railway tracks, said a dispatch from Dublin today.

Detachments of the Irish republican army are concentrating in Monaghan, where they are commandeering houses for use as barracks said a dispatch from Dublin to the Evening Standard.

For some time both armed republicans and orangemen have been gathering along the southern border of Ulster. Feeling is running high and a new element of seriousness has been injected by the disbanding of the liason commission. This commission was appointed to carry on friendly negotiations between the Irish free state and Ulster province.

Ulster is in a stronger military position than she was when war was recently threatened between the province and the free state.

Since then Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, former chief of the British imperial general staff, has assumed command of the Ulster volunteers.

Dublin, March 18.—A mutiny broke out in the barracks of the Irish republican army today.

Fifty mutineers left the barracks with their arms announcing their intention of leaving for the south.

The result left Xenia to play Beaver Creek and Jamestown to play Bowersville in the semi finals, there being four undefeated boys' teams and four undefeated girls' teams.

Allege Mismanagement Of Tuberculosis Hospital

Report of State Examiner On Institution Near Springfield Declares Illegal Practices Were Evident—Greene County Pays $20,000 in Three Years

Charges of mismanagement of the district tuberculosis hospital operated by Greene, Clark, Champaign and Madison Counties near Springfield, are contained in the report of F. P. Householder, state examiner and C. H. Churchill, assistant state examiner, who have just completed an examination of the hospital accounts at the instigation of W. B. Crim, auditor of Champaign County.

A copy of the report, received here by County Auditor R. O. Wead, alleges that W. C. Tuttle, treasurer of the board of trustees, and Clark County's representative, J. P. Neer, Champaign County's member of the board, and W. C. Trumbo, ex-treasurer of Clark County, violated the law which forbids office holders from buying property worth more than $50 without first advertising for bids. The law carries with it a penitentiary sentence.

These three officials are accused in the report of being involved in business transactions between the hospital and business concerns in which they were interested. The report alleges that the audit of bills paid by the hospital trustees showed that the Taggart-Trumbo Co., of which W. C. Trumbo, ex-treasurer of Clark County, was a member, received $175.23 for supplies furnished the hospital without the contract being let by advertised bids; that the W. F. Tuttle Hardware Co., of Springfield, of which W. F. Tuttle, Clark County member and treasurer of the board is principal owner, presented bills for $125.95 worth of supplies furnished the hospital, through the name of Lewis S. Jones, a Harmony hardware dealer and that $35.51 worth of supplies were purchased direct from Tuttle, the finding against him amounting to $166.73 and that J. P. Neer, of Urbana, member of the trustee board and vice president of the Urbana Packing Co., purchased $187.03 worth of meat for the institution from the Urbana Packing Co. without advertising for bids.

The same law, applies to all three of these transactions according to the examiner's report. The report says that the money involved in these transactions was paid illegally to these firms, and that those amounts are now due the hospital.

The report covered the time from April 1, 1918, to November 5, 1921, a period of three years and seven months, and shows the amount of money taken in and expended in that time. During the period Clark County paid in $82,311.31; Greene County $19,489.12; Champaign County $11,238.82 and Madison County $8,754.77. Disbursements for the period according to the counties, shows that Clark County cost the institution $83,719.64, a sum $1,408.33 in excess of what it paid in; Greene County cost the institution $19,751.99, an amount $262.87 in excess of what it paid in; Champaign County expenses were $8,583.29 showing that that county paid in $2,655.53 more than it used and Madison's expenses were $7,171.79, paying in $1,582.98 more than was expended for it.

These figures show that Greene County, in paying almost $20,000 toward the upkeep of the hospital, has contributed the second highest amount of any county. The hospital has been so expensive it has been a burden, according to County Auditor Wead, who is in sympathy with its discontinuance, as he believed that it accomplishes little good as far as Greene County is concerned, the patients from here being few, never numbering more than eight.

George Loderback, discharged farm manager at the hospital, introduced interesting testimony of alleged mismanagement into the hearing conducted by the state examiners. His testimony showed that a herd of nine dairy cows and three calves was sold for $700 after Loderback had been offered $900. The sale was made by Dr. Elwood Miller, former superintendent of the hospital, who has been supplanted in its management by Miss Anna Shepard. The cattle were sold to the Clark County Farmers' Sales Co., for which Dr. Miller has acted as clerk for five years.

Loderback also testified that good meat was made into soap grease, that fresh meat was purchased from Springfield butchers on the same day that he butchered a number of hogs at the hospital farm, that garden vegetables such as tomatoes, lettuce, turnips, beets, onions, etc., were allowed to go to waste and were hauled out on the dump. Once, he testified, he obtained an electrician to wire the farm cottage for $17, but Tuttle sent out a man who charged $57.

A. C. Martin, a former employee, said the "conduct of the hospital was absolutely extravagant." He said, too much help was employed and that most of this help "merely put in the time." He said he saw furniture broken up and thrown away which a little repair would have put in shape for use.

The heating plant installed last year also drew fire from the examiners, the report showing that the sum of $6,996.63 expended for the installation was spent illegally, and that the sum of $6,117.38 paid the contractors, Saunders & McIntyre Co., and $579.25 illegally expended by the trustees on the operation of the cost plus plan, must be paid back to the institution. The heating plant was put in without advertising for bids, it is alleged. The examiners also scored the cost plus ten per cent plan used.

The report declares that Dr. C. E. M. Finney was employed as medical superintendent July 6, 1921, and that his contract was "illegally dated to begin June 1, 1921." As his salary was $100 a month, the report shows that he was illegally paid $119.35 before his contract actually begun to operate, which is now due to the hospital.

Dr. R. R. Richison, former superintendent, and also former Yellow Springs physician, who is now Springfield's health commissioner, spent money illegally for cigars, paying $5 for cigars for the Clark County Medical Society and $3 for cigars for the Greene County Medical Society, the report declares.

A nurses' cottage was built for $2,594.36 and a furnace installed in it for $169, the contractor, C. W. Norton being paid $1 an hour for supervision and his employees from 60 to 80 cents an hour, when the work had not been properly let by contract.

The request for the examination was made by County Auditor Crim of Champaign County to learn if he had been correct in his refusal to increase the hospital tax levy in that county on the grounds that Champaign County had already paid more than her share of the expenses of the institution. As the figures show that Greene County's share has not been sufficient to cover the amount expended in behalf of this county, it is thought possible that an increase levy may be necessary from this county, although County Auditor Wead objects to paying a greater amount or even continuing the institution. It is expected that question in connection with the examination will be threshed out at a meeting of the joint board of county commissioners of the four counties in the district to be held in the near future.

The board of trustees is composed of W. C. Tuttle, treasurer, Clark County; J. P. Neer, Champaign County; Dr. R. H. Grube, Greene County; and Lester Bidwell, Madison County. Anna Shepard is now superintendent of the hospital, succeeding Dr. Elwood Miller, who in turn succeeded Dr. R. R. Richison. Miss Shepard's regime was under fire several months ago, when George Loderback, discharged farm manager, made certain charges to the board against her.

XENIA TEAM TOOK HONORS IN CRIPPLED CONDITION IN 1919

Xenia basketball fans who saw the Central High basketball team enter the annual county tournament at Antioch College in a crippled condition Saturday morning, may take consolation from the fact that the last time the blue and white won the county championship, the team was crippled.

Back in 1919 Germaine "Bruno" Ball, who recently was named as center on the mythical all-Arizona High school team, was unable to play in the Antioch tournament, and "Fuzz" Vannorsdall, guard, and now star performer on the Antioch College varsity, was shifted to center to fill the breach. The team defeated Osborn High, its strongest opponents, by one point in the semi finals, and then came through with an easy victory over Cedarville in the final game, winning the coveted cup.

That was the second and last time that a Xenia High team has won the county championship at Antioch. When the Antioch tournament was started in 1915, Xenia took the honors winning the permanent first place cup offered that year, while the Xenia High second team took third place. Osborn High won the championship in 1916 and 1917, while Cedarville stepped into possession of the trophy in 1918. In 1919 Xenia staged its comeback and in 1920 Beaver Creek Township High won the honors. Yellow Springs won the championship last year.

The first year of the tournament, a permanent cup was offered. Later a large cup was offered to the team that should win the championship three times, and Xenia has but one hold on this cup through its 1919 victory. Osborn has held the cup two years, and Cedarville, Yellow Springs and Beaver Creek one each.

When the 1922 tournament opened Saturday morning it was the first time in four years that Xenia Central has not been east with Jamestown in the opener. In the past four years this opening game with Xenia meant the elimination of Jamestown, but this year the Jamestown five is going strong and conceded to have the best chance for the cup it has ever had. At the recent Wilmington College tournament Xenia High eliminated Jamestown in the morning rounds as usual.

GUESS GENERAL WOOD WAS RIGHT WHEN HE SAID CUBA WAS NOT READY FOR SELF GOVERNMENT.

For more than a year the United States has been working quietly but very earnestly, through General Crowder, to perfect in Cuba the conditions for the establishment and maintenance of which it made itself responsible when it compelled Spain's relinquishment of sovereignty in the island. That such responsibility must entail exceptional relations between Cuba and the United States was made clear by President McKinley in his message of December 5, 1899, when he said:

This Nation has assumed before the world a grave responsibility for the future good government of Cuba. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and the exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to arise from the ashes of the past must needs be bound to us by ties of singular intimacy and strength if its enduring welfare is to be assured. Whether those ties shall be organic or conventional, the destinies of Cuba are in some rightful form irrevocably linked with our own, but how and how far is for the future to determine in the ripeness of events.

It was a very critical situation that General Crowder found when he arrived in Cuba at the beginning of last year.

Although two months had elapsed since the elections held on November 1 of the preceding year, both political parties were claiming the victory; there were thousands of electoral contests pending; the defeated party was clamoring for new elections under American supervision and threatening a revolution if they didn't get them; a legislative boycott was being maintained by the Congress; the country lay in the paralyzing grip of a moratorium decreed by the President and twice extended, which was about to expire without the Congress having met to provide the remedial legislation which the situation demanded.

General Wood, on the day of his departure, May 20, 1902, was emphatic in the expression of his belief that the United States was leaving Cubans to their own devices far too soon; knowing them exactly as they were, he knew that they were not sufficiently prepared wisely to conduct their own affairs. There had been little time for legislation in those three years of reconstructing a ruined land and the failure of the Cuban Congress since to provide needed laws has proven that General Wood was right—to say nothing of the two revolutions and the race war that have disturbed the country during its nineteen years of independent existence and the maladministration which necessitated the sending down of General Crowder to avert more serious disaster than any that had gone before.

WHAT HAYS HAS TO DO.

When a man gets a big salary for doing anything there are always many willing to sit back and let him do it all. Will Hays has undertaken to purify certain Augean stable areas in the motion-picture field; and with all the dynamic energy he brings to his remunerative task he cannot do it alone. He must have the aid of the nabobs of the business. The rajahs and maharajahs must do their part to sustain his supreme government.

The new director general is guarded in the little he says about the censorship. He knows he will have his own battle with the type of men now justly excoriated by right-minded people for vicious plays that pander to the lowest tastes in the spoken drama. It is all very well to say that the public is the judge, the competent court of last resort. But the public this season—as in other seasons—has flocked to see some very unwholesome things, and has withheld patronage from plays that were innocent of offense and still not wanting in the "punch" for which managers and editors always are clamoring without always knowing just what they mean by it.

What Hays does with and to the moving pictures is of interest to everybody who goes to see them—and that means to millions of people. When every possible accusation has been hurled at the films and those who act for them and those who put them out, the fact remains that they are a boon to many who cannot afford high-priced dramatic entertainment. The full possibilities are imperfectly realized; but it is not easy to say where those possibilities leave off. The passing days bring striking manifestations of the enormous value of the screen in the work of church and school. The time is long past when it is possible to rule out from our American life such a useful auxiliary to education. The last quarter of a century has no more impressive exhibit of inventive development to offer than the evolution of the motion picture, the art of which is still in its adolescent era on the way to unpredictable accomplishments in its matured futurity.

SCOFFERS AT THE LAW.

To the flippant and unthoughtful citizen who makes light of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, as well as to those who hold important political positions, and to those who have influence as leaders in the commercial and social life of the community and disregard this recent amendment, the following words taken from the judicial section of the American Bar Association in its annual session may have weight.

The people of the United States, by solemn constitutional and statutory enactment, have undertaken to suppress the age-long evil of the liquor traffic. When, for the gratification of their appetites or the promotion of their interests, lawyers, bankers, great merchants and manufacturers and social leaders, both men and women, disobey and scoff at this law, they are aiding the cause of anarchy and promoting mob violence, robbery and homicide; they are sowing dragons' teeth, and they need not be surprised when they find that no judicial or police authority can save our country or humanity from reaping the harvest.

J. A. Lewis, of St. Louis, Mo., who started his career as an office boy, has been elected president of the Republic National Bank, one of the largest financial institutions of that city.

At the annual meeting of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce, several women were elected to membership. This is the first time in the history of this organization that women have been thus honored.

The motor truck and automobile, privately owned or operated by a corporation, is fast making the local trains out of the large cities in the United States no longer a necessity for either freight or passengers.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

FINANCIAL WIZARDS.

Financial wizards rise at times, and cry, in accents sweet, "Oh, easy marks, bring us your dimes, and land in Velvet street! We'll pay you ninety-nine per cent on all the coin you bring; with such returns, it's evident you soon must dance and sing." The easy marks, in eager ranks, to Wizard calls respond, and draw their money from the banks, and cash the U. S. bond; oh, every kopeck they can scrape they promptly, gladly ship; no hoarded coins of theirs escape the Wizard's master grip. "Ods death," the prudent bankers say, "why ship the good long green? Why send the shining scads away to guys you've never seen? We'll show you how you may invest in safety all you own; why strip, we ask, your treasure chest, to back some fake unknown?" "You only pay some five per cent," the easy marks reply, "on sudden riches we are bent, and that's the reason why." And when some day we read once more of how some Wizard failed, his millions blown, while round his door the maddened victims wailed. "At last," we sigh, "the easy marks have learned their lesson dire; hereafter they will shun the sharks as burned kids shun the fire." But when tomorrow's wizard tells of fortunes swiftly made, the easy marks, all wearing bells, will to his door parade.

The Markets

STOCKS
The stock market, while displaying activity, has been mainly professional. The effect of the coal strike threat was negligible during the early part of March, as the market is prone to ignore strike controversies. During the latter part of the month traders may pay increased attention to this adverse development. Call money has been abundantly supplied at comparatively low rates. Industrial news, apart from waste matters, is encouraging. The market seems confident that the country will surmount its present difficulties and no sharp reaction is to be expected. Brokers' loans are relatively small.

GRAIN
Rains in the Southwest, favoring the new crop, and the threatened coal strike created bearish sentiment which furthered the decline in wheat. Corn and oats sympathized, although sustained by limited receipts. Export business was a partial offset. At heart traders are bullish on wheat and corn for periods of 60 to 90 days. Government figures show total wheat holdings in this country as 251,000,000 bushels, 80,000,000 less than last year. Opinion differs as to how much of this supply, America can spare for export. Supply and demand the world over are closely adjusted.

LIVESTOCK
Cattle prices seem gradually to be working upward, as seems only logical in view of the demand for other livestock. Supply continues liberal. Hog supply has been light all winter and the supply of live mutton is not greater than killers' requirements. The advance in hogs seems to have run its course, but hogs and live mutton both maintain their advanced levels in a degree that suggests an underlying change from six months or a year. Feeder trade is quite active. The rise in lamb has curtailed demand for this meat, but visible supply is small enough to lend the market continued support. Eastern demand for hogs fell off after the last sensational advance.

WOOL
No large amount of business has been done in the wool market. Nevertheless, prices remain firm in the main. Buyers are not ready to meet growers' prices for the new clip and very little buying is reported from the West during the past few weeks. Talk of higher and higher prices has disappeared and the market appears to be stabilizing. Opinion is that prices will not go materially lower and that the price movement from now on will not be erratic. During the speculative orgy of January and February the mills wisely held aloof.

COTTON
Cotton is sensitive to a wide variety of influences, among them variation in sterling, declines in the stock and grain markets, and political agitation in foreign countries. The New England and hand strikes have made an unfavorable impression on the trade, and in conjunction with minor factors of a bearish nature have induced hesitancy and kept prices on a somewhat uncertain footing. On the other hand, the crop is apparently getting a poor start, fertilizer sales are unusually small, and an increase in domestic consumption is discerned.

METALS
Further softening in prices has affected pig iron in the Pittsburgh district. Buys of steel and iron takes the form of many small orders, usually for prompt delivery, showing that consumers' stocks are low. Birmingham reports a disposition on the part of buyers to look into the second quarter.

AGRICULTURE
On the whole the farmer will not lose the ground he has gained, points out the National City Bank of New York city in an illuminating discussion of the outlook agriculturally. A good many farmers are prone to look upon the large bank with suspicion, an attitude not wholly justified. Bankers sometimes show great penetration and their opinions are well worth hearing.

In Europe, outside of Russia, declares this bank, production will return almost to normal in 1922, and the countries of Europe will import no more grain and meat products than absolutely necessary while their finances continue strained. The farmer has one permanent influence in his favor—the increase in population. A third bumper corn crop is improbable and the spread between corn and hogs a year hence will almost certainly be less than it has been in recent months. The tendency in corn is higher, while hogs may conceivably forfeit a portion of their gains.

Grain and flour are participating in the sharp advance affecting German commodities since the war. The rise in wheat, and rye since Christmas is said to be 60 per cent. American grains will find a better market in Germany than before if the domestic scale of prices stands on a level with the American scale, as it promises to do. The German government, by requiring delivery of grain at prices fixed last spring and bearing part of the cost of imported grain through the bread subsidies, has lightened the public burden. Bread subsidies are not included in the budget for next year.

Difficult, as it is to compare wages on the farm with factory wages the statement is often made that farm wages are below the standard set by wages in the city and that, until this discrepancy is removed, the best farm laborers, including many farmers' sons, who must serve their apprenticeship before they inherit land and responsibility, will migrate to the city. Undoubtedly city wages put the farmer at a disadvantage during the war.

XENIA WINS FIRST TOURNAMENT GAME FROM ROSS 26 TO 2

Xenia Central High School basketball team won its first game in the annual county tournament at Antioch College Saturday morning by defeating Ross Township High School 26 to 2.

Although the game was played with only ten minute halves, the crack blue and white five, spurred on by the fact that it was fighting against odds occasioned by a crippled line-up, put up a superb brand of the court game, showering baskets on the Ross tossers, and not permitting their opponents a single field goal.

Gegner, although he has been ill and not been able to practice, substituted for Douthett at forward, and in the time he was in, managed to toss five baskets, while Captain Boxwell was next high man with four fielders. The lineup and summary: Xenia (26) — Ross (2) Douthett — L. F. Cummings Vannorsdall — R. F. Rose Boxwell (c) — C. Nutter Yeakley — L. G. McClure Reutinger — R. G. Kavanagh Substitutions: Xenia, Geger for Douthett; Lones for Boxwell. Witham for Reutinger; Ross, Smith for Rose. Field Goals: Vannorsdall 1, Boxwell 4, Yeakley 1, Geger 5, Lones 1, Foul Goals: Vannorsdall 1, Geger 1, Cummings 1, Nutter 1, Referee: Don Hamilton, Notre Dame. Time of Halves, 10 minutes.

As a result of the drawing Saturday morning, in which Xenia Central drew a bye, the locals, it is believed will only have to play three games in the tournament at the most. Yellow Springs and Beavercreek, after eliminating their opponents in the morning rounds, had to meet each other, and the winner of his game was scheduled to play Xenia at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

The afternoon rounds opened at two o'clock, and Jamestown is scheduled to meet the winner of the Bowersville-Bellbrook game at 2:30 o'clock. In the morning rounds, Beavercreek Township High School both boys and girls teams, eliminated both the boys and girls teams of Bath Township, being cast together through a coincidence in the drawings. Beaver boys, defeated Bath boys team 15 to 7; Yellow Springs High eliminated Caesarscreek 27 to 2; Xenia eliminated Ross 26 to 2; Jamestown eliminated Cedarville 18 to 12.

In the girls' division Jamestown High defeated Bellbrook 10 to 2; Beavercreek eliminated Bath 15 to 5, and Yellow Springs eliminated Osborn 10 to 1.

BOXER IS KILLED IN OMAHA BOU.

Omaha, Neb., March 18.—Roy Carter, of Sioux City, is at liberty under $20,000 bond, today, pending an investigation into the death of Charles Havlicek, local boxer, who was killed in the fourth round of a bout with Carter. Havlicek's neck was broken as the result of a blow, according to physicians.

Havlicek had been knocked down in the fourth round but got to his feet at the count of four. Carter struck him again on the chin, witnesses said, and he fell to the canvas and failed to revive. He was carried to his dressing room where he died 20 minutes later.

Despite the accident to the boxer, other bouts on the program were staged and the crowd did not know of Havlicek's death until after the last fight.

ORIENTAL brick and stucco are the main materials used to construct this house which is a most substantial and at the same time most attractive model. This is indeed a very happy and artistic combination of materials—a combination which the Half Timber gables greatly enhance. The brick is used on the outside up to the first window sill and above that the stucco is used.

Four bed rooms, sleeping porch, bath room, a private toilet, and numerous closets, including one for the bath room and bed linen, comprise the second story which is finished in birch either painted or enameled.

Downstairs, the floor plan has been arranged with great care and an eye for achieving artistic results. Entering through a vestibule, one comes into the living room off from which is the spacious sun parlor. Furnished in attractive willow furniture and with gay chintz or cretonne hangings and flowers and plants at every window, it is not hard to picture the charming effect gained the moment one enters this house. The living room and dining room are separated by a columned archway and the lack of a door between these two rooms adds an air of spaciousness that otherwise would not have been achieved. Then too, if there are any young people in the house, they will rejoice over this feature as the two rooms, thrown together, will make an ideal place to give an informal dance. An interesting feature of the dining room is the built-in sideboard while the living room has a wide fireplace to add to its comfort and charm. GUESS GENERAL WOOD WAS RIGHT WHEN HE SAID CUBA WAS NOT READY FOR SELF GOVERNMENT.

For more than a year the United States has been working quietly but very earnestly, through General Crowder, to perfect in Cuba the conditions for the establishment and maintenance of which it made itself responsible when it compelled Spain's relinquishment of sovereignty in the island. That such responsibility must entail exceptional relations between Cuba and the United States was made clear by President McKinley in his message of December 5, 1899, when he said:

This Nation has assumed before the world a grave responsibility for the future good government of Cuba. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and the exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to arise from the ashes of the past must needs be bound to us by ties of singular intimacy and strength if its enduring welfare is to be assured. Whether those ties shall be organic or conventional, the destinies of Cuba are in some rightful form irrevocably linked with our own, but how and how far is for the future to determine in the ripeness of events.

It was a very critical situation that General Crowder found when he arrived in Cuba at the beginning of last year.

Although two months had elapsed since the elections held on November 1 of the preceding year, both political parties were claiming the victory; there were thousands of electoral contests pending; the defeated party was clamoring for new elections under American supervision and threatening a revolution if they didn't get them; a legislative boycott was being maintained by the Congress; the country lay in the paralyzing grip of a moratorium decreed by the President and twice extended, which was about to expire without the Congress having met to provide the remedial legislation which the situation demanded.

General Wood, on the day of his departure, May 20, 1902, was emphatic in the expression of his belief that the United States was leaving Cubans to their own devices far too soon; knowing them exactly as they were, he knew that they were not sufficiently prepared wisely to conduct their own affairs. There had been little time for legislation in those three years of reconstructing a ruined land and the failure of the Cuban Congress since to provide needed laws has proven that General Wood was right—to say nothing of the two revolutions and the race war that have disturbed the country during its nineteen years of independent existence and the maladministration which necessitated the sending down of General Crowder to avert more serious disaster than any that had gone before.

WHAT HAYS HAS TO DO.

When a man gets a big salary for doing anything there are always many willing to sit back and let him do it all. Will Hays has undertaken to purify certain Augean stable areas in the motion-picture field; and with all the dynamic energy he brings to his remunerative task he cannot do it alone. He must have the aid of the nabobs of the business. The rajahs and maharajahs must do their part to sustain his supreme government.

The new director general is guarded in the little he says about the censorship. He knows he will have his own battle with the type of men now justly excoriated by right-minded people for vicious plays that pander to the lowest tastes in the spoken drama. It is all very well to say that the public is the judge, the competent court of last resort. But the public this season—as in other seasons—has flocked to see some very unwholesome things, and has withheld patronage from plays that were innocent of offense and still not wanting in the "punch" for which managers and editors always are clamoring without always knowing just what they mean by it.

What Hays does with and to the moving pictures is of interest to everybody who goes to see them—and that means to millions of people. When every possible accusation has been hurled at the films and those who act for them and those who put them out, the fact remains that they are a boon to many who cannot afford high-priced dramatic entertainment. The full possibilities are imperfectly realized; but it is not easy to say where those possibilities leave off. The passing days bring striking manifestations of the enormous value of the screen in the work of church and school. The time is long past when it is possible to rule out from our American life such a useful auxiliary to education. The last quarter of a century has no more impressive exhibit of inventive development to offer than the evolution of the motion picture, the art of which is still in its adolescent era on the way to unpredictable accomplishments in its matured futurity.

SCOFFERS AT THE LAW.

To the flippant and unthoughtful citizen who makes light of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, as well as to those who hold important political positions, and to those who have influence as leaders in the commercial and social life of the community and disregard this recent amendment, the following words taken from the judicial section of the American Bar Association in its annual session may have weight.

The people of the United States, by solemn constitutional and statutory enactment, have undertaken to suppress the age-long evil of the liquor traffic. When, for the gratification of their appetites or the promotion of their interests, lawyers, bankers, great merchants and manufacturers and social leaders, both men and women, disobey and scoff at this law, they are aiding the cause of anarchy and promoting mob violence, robbery and homicide; they are sowing dragons' teeth, and they need not be surprised when they find that no judicial or police authority can save our country or humanity from reaping the harvest.

J. A. Lewis, of St. Louis, Mo., who started his career as an office boy, has been elected president of the Republic National Bank, one of the largest financial institutions of that city.

At the annual meeting of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce, several women were elected to membership. This is the first time in the history of this organization that women have been thus honored.

The motor truck and automobile, privately owned or operated by a corporation, is fast making the local trains out of the large cities in the United States no longer a necessity for either freight or passengers.

THE SHAMPOO

Well cared for hair will not need special tonics. Since if it is in good condition dandruff or other hair troubles will have no chance to develop. This talk today is only for the girl whose hair is already in good condition.

A certain amount of daily care is essential. The hair should be taken down at night and the scalp given a quick vigorous massage with the hands to stimulate it and to air it. Then the locks should be brushed and opened out so that hair and scalp will be thoroughly aired. When the weather permits the hair should be given frequent sun baths.

A healthy scalp should be shampooed once in three weeks unless you live in the city. Then, if the hair seems to be quite dirty, shampoo it more frequently and use oil on the scalp before the shampoo so you will not dry up the scalp. An egg shampoo is the best for general use.

Beat up an egg and rub it, yolk and white together, thoroughly into the scalp and over the hair. Let it dry, it will take about half an hour. Then wash with very warm water and soap, using castile or tar soap preferably. Use soap twice or three times if the hair is very oily, then rinse with hot water, then with cooler water, finally with cold water. If you can attach a hose and spray to the bathroom faucet, the shampooing will be easier and the rinsing quicker and more thorough. Dry the hair in the sun when possible.

Discouraged—Full lips are apt to improve with years, since their tendency is to grow thinner with time. Full lips are not unattractive, it all depends upon yourself. If you are self conscious and try to contract the lips, you spoil the expression of the mouth. If you forget it and show an interested and happy countenance, your mouth becomes mobile expressing sweetness and to one would ever consider whether your lips are full or thin.

Bee—Neither pimples nor skin blemishes could result from working in a dusty office, as they come from internal disturbances. Your skin will not be affected by this exposure if you take the proper care of it. Re-

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

FINANCIAL WIZARDS.

Financial wizards rise at times, and cry, in accents sweet, "Oh, easy marks, bring us your dimes, and land in Velvet street! We'll pay you ninety-nine per cent on all the coin you bring; with such returns, it's evident you soon must dance and sing." The easy marks, in eager ranks, to Wizard calls respond, and draw their money from the banks, and cash the U. S. bond; oh, every kopeck they can scrape they promptly, gladly ship; no hoarded coins of theirs escape the Wizard's master grip. "Ods death," the prudent bankers say, "why ship the good long green? Why send the shining scads away to guys you've never seen? We'll show you how you may invest in safety all you own; why strip, we ask, your treasure chest, to back some fake unknown?" "You only pay some five per cent," the easy marks reply, "on sudden riches we are bent, and that's the reason why." And when some day we read once more of how some Wizard failed, his millions blown, while round his door the maddened victims wailed. "At last," we sigh, "the easy marks have learned their lesson dire; hereafter they will shun the sharks as burned kids shun the fire." But when tomorrow's wizard tells of fortunes swiftly made, the easy marks, all wearing bells, will to his door parade.

STOCKS
The stock market, while displaying activity, has been mainly professional. The effect of the coal strike threat was negligible during the early part of March, as the market is prone to ignore strike controversies. During the latter part of the month traders may pay increased attention to this adverse development. Call money has been abundantly supplied at comparatively low rates. Industrial news, apart from waste matters, is encouraging. The market seems confident that the country will surmount its present difficulties and no sharp reaction is to be expected. Brokers' loans are relatively small.

GRAIN
Rains in the Southwest, favoring the new crop, and the threatened coal strike created bearish sentiment which furthered the decline in wheat. Corn and oats sympathized, although sustained by limited receipts. Export business was a partial offset. At heart traders are bullish on wheat and corn for periods of 60 to 90 days. Government figures show total wheat holdings in this country as 251,000,000 bushels, 80,000,000 less than last year. Opinion differs as to how much of this supply America can spare for export. Supply and demand the world over are closely adjusted.

LIVESTOCK
Cattle prices seem gradually to be working upward, as seems only logical in view of the demand for other livestock. Supply continues liberal. Hog supply has been light all winter and the supply of live mutton is not greater than killers' requirements. The advance in hogs seems to have run its course, but hogs and live mutton both maintain their advanced levels in a degree that suggests an underlying change from six months or a year. Feeder trade is quite active. The rise in lamb has curtailed demand for this meat, but visible supply is small enough to lend the market continued support. Eastern demand for hogs fell off after the last sensational advance.

WOOL
No large amount of business has been done in the wool market. Nevertheless, prices remain firm in the main. Buyers are not ready to meet growers' prices for the new clip and very little buying is reported from the West during the past few weeks. Talk of higher and higher prices has disappeared and the market appears to be stabilizing. Opinion is that prices will not go materially lower and that the price movement from now on will not be erratic. During the speculative orgy of January and February the mills wisely held aloof.

COTTON
Cotton is sensitive to a wide variety of minor influences, among them variation in sterling declines in the stock and grain markets, and political agitation in foreign countries. The New England and hand strikes have made an unfavorable impression on the trade, and in conjunction with minor factors of a bearish nature have induced hesitancy and kept prices on a somewhat uncertain footing. On the other hand, the crop is apparently getting a poor start, fertilizer sales are unusually small, and an increase in domestic consumption is discerned.

METALS
Further softening in prices has affected pig iron in the Pittsburgh district. Buyn of steel and iron takes the form of many small orders, usually for prompt delivery, showing that consumers' stocks are low. Birmingham reports a disposition on the part of buyers to look into the second quarter.

On the whole the farmer will not lose the ground he has gained, points out the National City Bank of New York city in an illuminating discussion of the outlook agriculturally. A good many farmers are prone to look upon the large bank with suspicion, an attitude not wholly justified. Bankers sometimes show great penetration and their opinions are well worth hearing.

In Europe, outside of Russia, declares this bank, production will return almost to normal in 1922, and the countries of Europe will import no more grain and meat products than absolutely necessary while their finances continue strained. The farmer has one permanent influence in his favor—the increase in population. A third bumper corn crop is improbable and the spread between corn and hogs a year hence will almost certainly be less than it has been in recent months. The tendency in corn is higher, while hogs may conceivably forfeit a portion of their gains.

Grain and flour are participating in the sharp advance affecting German commodities since the war. The rise in wheat and rye since Christmas is said to be 60 per cent. American grains will find a better market in Germany than before if the domestic scale of prices stands on a level with the American scale, as it promises to do. The German government, by requiring delivery of grain at prices fixed last spring and bearing part of the cost of imported grain through the bread subsidies, has lightened the public burden. Bread subsidies are not included in the budget for next year.

XENIA WINS FIRST TOURNAMENT GAME FROM ROSS 26 TO 2

Xenia Central High School basketball team won its first game in the annual county tournament at Antioch College Saturday morning by defeating Ross Township High School 26 to 2.

Although the game was played with only ten minute halves, the crack blue and white five, spurred on by the fact that it was fighting against odds occasioned by a crippled line-up, put up a superb brand of the court game, showering baskets on the Ross tossers, and not permitting their opponents a single field goal.

Gegner, although he has been ill and not been able to practice, substituted for Douthett at forward, and in the time he was in, managed to toss five baskets, while Captain Boxwell was next high man with four fielders. The lineup and summary:

Xenia (26) Ross (2)
Douthett L. F. Cummings
Vannorsdall R. F. Rose
Boxwell (c) C. Nutter
Yeakley L. G. McClure
Reutinger R. G. Kavanagh

Substitutions: Xenia, Gegner for Douthett; Lones for Boxwell. Witham for Reutinger; Ross, Smith for Rose. Field Goals: Vannorsdall 1, Boxwell 4, Yeakley 1, Gegner 5, Lones 1, Foul Goals: Vannorsdall 1, Gegner 1, Cummings 1, Nutter 1. Referee: Don Hamilton, Notre Dame. Time of Halves, 10 minutes.

As a result of the drawing Saturday morning, in which Xenia Central drew a bye, the locals, it is believed will only have to play three games in the tournament at the most. Yellow Springs and Beaver Creek, after eliminating their opponents in the morning rounds, had to meet each other, and the winner of his game was scheduled to play Xenia at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

The afternoon rounds opened at two o'clock, and Jamestown is scheduled to meet the winner of the Bowersville-Bellbrook game at 2:30 o'clock. In the morning rounds, Beaver Creek Township High School both boys and girls teams, eliminated both the boys and girls teams of Bath Township, being cast together through a coincident in the drawings. Beaver boys, defeated Bath boys team 15 to 7; Yellow Springs High eliminated Caesars Creek Township 28 to 7; Xenia eliminated Ross 26 to 2; Jamestown eliminated Cedarville 18 to 12.

In the girls' division Jamestown High defeated Bellbrook 10 to 2; Beaver Creek eliminated Bath 15 to 5, and Yellow Springs eliminated Osborn 10 to 1.

BOXER IS KILLED IN OMAHA BOU.

Omaha, Neb., March 18.—Roy Carter, of Sioux City, is at liberty under $20,000 bond, today, pending an investigation into the death of Charles Havlicek, local boxer, who was killed in the fourth round of a bout with Carter. Havlicek's neck was broken as the result of a blow, according to physicians.

Havlicek had been knocked down in the fourth round but got to his feet at the count of four. Carter struck him again on the chin, witnesses said, and he fell to the canvass and failed to revive. He was carried to his dressing room where he died 20 minutes later.

Despite the accident to the boxer, other bouts on the program were staged and the crowd did not know of Havlicek's death until after the last fight.

ORIENTAL brick and stucco are the main materials used to construct this house which is a most substantial and at the same time most attractive model. This is indeed a very happy and artistic combination of materials—a combination which the Half Timber gables greatly enhance. The brick is used of the outside up to the first window sill and above that the stucco is used.

Four bed rooms, sleeping porch, bath room, a private toilet, and numerous closets, including one for the bath room and bed linen, comprise the second story which is finished in birch either painted or enameled.

Downstairs, the floor plan has been arranged with great care and an eye for achieving artistic results. Entering through a vestibule, one comes into the living room off from which is the spacious sun parlor. Furnished in attractive willow furniture and with gay chintz or cretonne hangings and flowers and plants at every window, it is not hard to picture the charming effect gained the moment one enters this house. The living room and dining room are separated by a columned archway and the lack of a door between these two rooms adds an air of spaciousness that otherwise would not have been achieved. Then too, if there are any young people in the house, they will rejoice over this feature as the two rooms, thrown together, will make an ideal place to give an informal dance. An interesting feature of the dining room is the built-in sideboard while the living room has a wide fireplace to add to its comfort and charm. Extreme Fashions Taboo In Big Institutions In New York City

New York, March 18.—Flappers, girls who dress in extreme fashions and have bobbed hair, are "out of luck" in the maddening daily whirl of New York's big institutions.

Officials of a score of the biggest business and banking establishments in the city today expressed their aversion to the flapperish type and outlined how they keep her out of their businesses and how they handle her, if by some near miracle, she slips between the closely set employment bars.

Bobbed hair is not so bad, they say, but—

At the federal reserve bank not one of the 1,700 girls who have bobbed tresses is permitted during business hours to "fluff it up" with a comb secreted somewhere in her desk. The ideal arrangement, officials said is for her to wear a net.

There are no set rules at the bank officials said, but—

There is an investigating committee of the older girls of the establishment. They investigate cases where a girl goes to the extreme in any way. The particular girl is gently remonstrated with and in 99 cases out of 100 she conforms to the bank's standards. If she doesn't, she seeks other employment.

Rules as to how girls shall dress are not new at the John Wanamaker stores. In fact, they are twenty years old and 5,000 girls are affected. Here are some of the rules:

In winter, dresses shall be blue, or black.

In summer, the "costume" may be varied by a white waist.

At all times the stockings and shoes shall be black.

The dress must be "not too low" at the neck and "not too high" at the bottom.

The bobbed hair question has not come up. Only three or four girls in the institution "wear it that way."

At the R. H. Macy company department store, a committee of girl employees look after the dress of the girls. The color of the dresses is specified and they must conform to the store's atmosphere.

At almost every other institution where girls are employed in large numbers, at hotels and railroad offices, as well as in the banks and department stores the dress and conduct of the girls is closely scrutinized before they are employed obviating close supervision afterwards.

At no place, however, are the regulations very specific. They do not specify lengths and breadths by inches and the statutes are not iron clad. Much is left to the girls own judgment. But her judgment is supervised.

By whatever means the result is attained the fact is that the modern type of girl is conspicuous by her absence in the modern New York big business establishment.

George R. Prout, 52, widely known manufacturer and business man of Springfield, died suddenly at his home on East High Street, Springfield, Friday afternoon.

Mr. Prout returned Thursday from Miami, Fla., where he had spent several months at the home of his father-in-law, Frank Bookwalter, recuperating from an attack of stomach trouble, and heart disease, with which he had suffered for almost a year.

At the time of his death, Mr. Prout was president of the James Lefel and Company and first vice-president of the Citizens National Bank. In addition he had large property holdings and owned a vast tract of farm land in Nebraska. He was also prominently active in the Rotary Club, Lagonda Club, Country Club, Y. M. C. A. and Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. May Bookwalter Prout, and one daughter, Elizabeth and one son Harold R. Prout.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." — Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL TO MAKE ADDRESS AT COLUMBUS MEET

Harper C. Pendry, principal of Central High School of this city, will address the sectional meeting discussing the problems of the high school principal at the Second Annual Educational Conference to be conducted by the College of Education at Ohio State University on March 23, 24 and 25.

Mr. Pendry will be one of six Ohio educators who will speak before this meeting. The section will meet on the second day of the conference, March 24, and is expected to be one of the largest group meetings.

Fifty-four speakers will address the various sectional meetings and general meetings to be held throughout the three days of the conference. These educators will represent 23 Ohio cities. Out of state educators who will address the conference are: Angelo Patri, principal of the elementary school system of the Bronx, New York City, A. C. Perry Jr., district superintendent of the New York City school system and W. W. Charters of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

W. O. Thompson, president of the University, and George F. Arps, dean of the College of Education will address the first meeting of the Conference on March 23.

Present indications point to a doubling of the attendance record of the first annual conference held last year. At that time more than 800 registered. There will be 20 sectional meetings, each taking up a special phase of education.

Extensive exhibits are being arranged by the physical education and educational psychological tests sections. The physical education exhibit will touch on every phase of this work from special exercises for crippled children to more advanced major collegiate sports. The exhibit will consist of charts, graphs, pictures, and selected book displays, on each topic. The educational and psychological tests section will have on display 175 charts of achievement and intelligence tests now being used in the school systems through out the United States.

Styles BY LENORE

When Milady goes a-travelling by motor, train or steamer she will want top coat that is not only distinguished in appearance, but one that is warm, soft, and loose enough to be worn over a tailored suit. And if she can find the kind of coat that can be worn over a silk dress in the afternoon as well, she will feel as joyful as the starving tribes who discovered corn in Egypt. Just such a model is shown in the sketch. It is a coat designed by Brandt, and is made of wool velour in a lovely golden tan, with a square collar of velour striped in two shades of blue. It is the cape-like effect of the sleeves which gives the coat so much style, and a silhouette which is extremely modish in coats this season.

Efficient Housekeeping BY Laura A. Kirkman

IF YOU CAN MAKE A GOOD BOILED CUSTARD
The woman who can make a delicious boiled custard is never at a loss in preparing desserts or supper dishes at short notice. But upon questioning several young housekeepers, I find to my amazement, that all housekeepers do not know how to make a good boiled custard!
So now I am going to tell "just how" to make this most versatile dish. Begin by separating the whites from the yolks of three eggs. As only the yolks are used in a boiled custard, set the whites aside to use for meringues, cake icings, et cetera, and proceed as follows:
Beat the three egg-yolks slightly and stir into them one-fourth of a cup of granulated sugar and a pinch of salt. Set 2 cups of milk on the range in a small saucepan to scald (do not let it boil) and when this is hot pour it gradually into the egg-yolks, stirring constantly. Turn the mixture into the top of a double boiler and cook on a hot fire, over a rapidly boiling water, for about fifteen minutes. During this cooking, you must stir the mixture all the time. When it "coats a spoon" (that is, when it is thick on the spoon) it is ready to pour off into a bowl to cool.

A boiled custard may be used in the following ways:

Floating Island Dessert: Beat two egg-whites stiff, whipping into them 2 tablespoons of granulated sugar and a few drops of vanilla extract. Drop this meringue by spoonfuls on cold boiled custard, chill, and serve.

Apple Snow Custard: Whip 3 egg-whites stiff, beating in 2 tablespoons of sugar, then also whip in 2 tablespoons of cold, sweetened apple sauce. Pipe this "snow" on individual portions of cold boiled custard and serve.

Fruit Custard Dessert: Pare 2 oranges and remove skins from two bananas. Cut the fruit into small pieces, dividing it into four equal portions. Put one portion into a dessert saucer and pour cold boiled custard over it. (This recipe makes four individual portions. Use the custard recipe given above.)

Egg-Custard Supper Dish: Make a boiled custard from recipe given above, but omit the sugar. While it is still hot, turn it into a baking dish and add to it 4 hard-boiled eggs which have been sliced into fairly small pieces. Sprinkle buttered crumbs on top and slip the dish into a hot oven to brown. Then serve at once. This dish calls for a good many eggs, but is a nourishing and delicious one to serve on a "special occasion" such as a guest supper.

Chicken-Custard Supper Dish: Make a custard from above-given recipe omitting the sugar, then add to it, while still very hot, 1 heaping cup of diced cooked chicken. (The canned boned chicken may be used if desired.) Turn all over slices of toast on a platter, and serve at once.

Cheese Custard Supper Dish: Make a boiled custard as above directed, but omitting the sugar. While still hot, stir into it 1 cup of diced Amtrican cheese, stir for a moment until cheese begins to melt, then turn the mixture over slices of toast and sprinkle all with one hard-boiled egg rubbed through a sieve or finely minced.

In making custard for the first time, take care to remove it from the fire just as soon as it coats the spoon thickly; otherwise it will curdle from over-cooking.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

HELEN DEMONSTRATES HER ABILITY CHAPTER 67

"Where'd you get the maid?" Jack asked, "and where do you keep her? I haven't laid eyes on her." Then: "She's a dandy cook all right. This dinner is simply perfect."
"Thank you! But I didn't get any maid," Helen answered.
"Then—but—where?"
"You got the maid, not I."
"Is Nora back?" She must have been taking cooking lessons.
"No, Nora isn't back, but you selected the maid—when you married me. I told you I was going to take care of your home, try to be a good wife, and I meant it, Jack." Helen's tone was now serious. "Your mother taught me to cook, to keep house. I tried very hard to learn, a tremble in her voice."
"Helen!" Jack rose from the table, and took his wife in his arms, regardless of the danger of dragging the table cloth and dishes to the floor in his rush. "You mean that you, your own little self, cooked this delicious dinner?"
"Yes, and I shall keep right on cooking delicious dinners! I have laid in a great stock of kitchen aprons."
"Bully for you! But, dear," he resumed his seat, "are you strong enough to get along without a
